About Volunteer Ireland

Volunteer Ireland is the national organisation that promotes, supports and advocates for volunteering in Ireland. We work with stakeholders to make volunteering accessible, inclusive and of high quality. We build capacity in organisations and companies to create meaningful volunteering experiences. We celebrate volunteering and communicate its impact to Government and the wider public. We advocate for volunteering so that its value is recognised. We support the network of 29 Volunteer Centres and work closely with them to ensure volunteering thrives at local and national level.

Volunteer Ireland helps companies create meaningful employee volunteering experiences that strengthen people, communities and purpose.

Volunteer Ireland helps companies create meaningful employee volunteering experiences that strengthen people, communities and purpose.

Employee volunteering brings your company's purpose to life while supporting employee engagement, wellbeing, team building and skills development.

It gives employees the opportunity to connect with colleagues, develop leadership, communication and problem-solving skills, and gain new perspectives through community involvement.

At the same time, your business contributes to stronger, more resilient communities through trusted partnerships that deliver real social impact.

How can we help you?

Companies of all sizes come to Volunteer Ireland to create volunteering opportunities that meet business objectives while responding to genuine community needs.

Whether you're planning a once-off volunteering day, year-round activities, or a larger employee volunteering programme, our managed services make it easy to deliver high-quality experiences for you and the community.
